

The Complete Lottery Guide

Discover All the Information You Kneed To Know About The Lottery You're Playing... Or Thinking About Playing!

From the desk of Paul Connor,
Author of Lotto Hidden Secrets

Dear fellow lotto player,

I want to introduce to you the result of my latest project, of which I am extremely proud. But first of all, I'd like you to answer one question:

In order to win the lottery, would you consider it relevant to get all the information you can get on the game and lottery that you intent to play?

If you're answer was YES, you have my full respect and admiration. But if you answered NO, then let me explain why it is crucial that you do get and study all that information.

Imagine, for a moment, that playing the lottery with the porpoise of winning (some people play just for the kicks of it) is like going to a job interview. Would you say it's a good idea to go to an interview without having as much information as possible about the company and the position you're interviewing for? I say you need to know the rules of the game in order to win. And this goes for interviews... and playing the lottery too!

If you are really serious about winning the lottery...

...it is in your best interest to play the game most suited for you – and the one with the highest winning probability.

But how can you get all that information? Well, you could spend anywhere between 30 and 40 days surfing the internet for an average 8 hours a day, and get most of the information yourself (I'm pretty sure it would take you a lot longer to get it all).

Or...

You could just take advantage of the fact that someone has already done that for you – and wants to share it, too!

I've been working along with my research team for 3 weeks on this guide and now I am proud to announce that...

“The Complete Lottery Guide” is finally available!

So How Much Does It Cost?

I had a really big problem trying to answer this question myself. So here's how I went about it:

If we were to hire a single person to do the job, it would have taken him or her around 25 days (a total of approximately 200 working hours), and we'd have to pay him/her something between $2900 and $3400 to do it!

Taking this into account, I thought it is perfectly fair that we sell "The Complete Lotto Guide" for $39.99. However, my team advised me to run market test, given the fact that this is, as far as we know, the only lotto guide of this type available! (This means you won't find all this information anywhere else!)

So, as part of our marketing test, today's special prize for "The Complete Lotto Guide" is $19.99. That's an exact $20 off the normal price! But there is ONE condition:

You only benefit of the special $20 off
The normal price if you order TODAY!
